In regards to the tickets to UFC 115

Thank you for giving me the opportunity to attend UFC 115.

It was always my dream to see the UFC. I have followed the UFC on television and Liddell remains one of my heroes despite his loss to Franklin. The tickets meant a lot to me, because it is the first time someone has done something so huge for me. I said to my ICOP worker that it was the best day of my life, and I meant it. I learned that I can channel my anger to something productive such as training to be a fighter. I also learned that there is a time and place for fighting and that place is in a controlled arena with respect as the foundation between you and your opponent.

Thank you,

Josh M.
